Christopher Westfall: About the Judge

Christopher Westfall became interested in drawing and painting at an early age. He entered his first juried art festival as a teenager. After earning a degree in commercial art, Christopher worked in advertising doing graphic design and illustrations for a multitude of clients. He left advertising and art for a decade but began painting again with encouragement from his wife. In 2005 Chris became a full time fine art painter. He first became known for his cityscapes of Tulsa, and more recently for his abstract paintings. He has participated in numerous shows, winning awards for his paintings. His work can be found in many private and corporate collections across the US.

Artist’s Statement: “I consider myself an “impatienceist”. I use acrylic paint to accommodate my eagerness to put the next layer of paint down. I utilize light to add a higher dimension of life to my paintings. I love to express my passion for life through painting and to share that with others.”

He lives in Tulsa, OK with his wife Cheryl and their son Max and daughter Venecia. His website is www.christopherwestfall.com
